PART I

Item 1. Business

GENERAL

Old Point Financial Corporation (the “Company”) was incorporated under the laws of Virginia on February 16, 1984, for the purpose of acquiring all the outstanding common stock of The Old Point National Bank of Phoebus (the “Bank”), in connection with the reorganization of the Bank into a one-bank holding company structure. At the annual meeting of the stockholders on March 27, 1984, the proposed reorganization was approved by the requisite stockholder vote. At the effective date of the reorganization on October 1, 1984, the Bank merged into a newly formed national bank as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, with each outstanding share of common stock of the Bank being converted into five shares of common stock of the Company.

The Company completed a spin-off of its trust department as of April 1, 1999. The newly formed organization is chartered as Old Point Trust and Financial Services, N.A. (“Trust”). Trust is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. The Company’s primary activity is as a holding company for the common stock of the Bank and Trust. The principal business of the Company is conducted through its subsidiaries which continue to conduct business in substantially the same manner and from the same offices.

The Bank is a national banking association that was founded in 1922. As of the end of 2005, the Bank had eighteen offices in the cities of Hampton, Newport News, Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Chesapeake as well as James City and York County, Virginia, and provides a full range of banking and related financial services, including checking, savings, time deposits, and other depository services, commercial, industrial, residential real estate, consumer loan services and safekeeping services. The Bank’s nineteenth branch, located in Isle of Wight County should open in the first quarter of 2006.

As of December 31, 2005, the Company had assets of $740.0 million, loans of $494.7 million, deposits of $536.7 million, and stockholders’ equity of $71.1 million. At year-end, the Company and its subsidiaries had a total of 296 employees, 24 of who were part-time.

The Company’s market area is Hampton Roads, which includes Williamsburg, Poquoson, Newport News, Hampton, Chesapeake, Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Portsmouth and Suffolk. The area also includes the counties of Isle of Wight, Gloucester, James City, Mathews, York and Surry. In 2003, the United States Census Bureau ranked Hampton Roads as the 32nd most populous Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) in the United States. The Hampton Roads MSA is the largest market between Washington D.C. and Atlanta, GA, and the fourth largest MSA in the southeast. The region has seen a 13% increase in population between 1990 and 2004 and is home to just over 1.6 million people. The Hampton Roads Planning District Commission predicts Hampton Roads will have more than 1.8 million residents by 2018.

Hampton Roads features the largest and fastest growing port in the country, a diverse economy and a solid military sector with major military headquarters and the world’s largest naval base. Businesses are attracted to Hampton Roads for a number of factors, including a relatively low cost of living, a high quality of life, and a well educated and able labor force.

In the Bank’s market area, the Company competes with large national and regional financial institutions, savings and loans and other independent community banks, as well as credit unions, mutual funds and life insurance companies. Increased competition has come from out-of-state banks through their acquisition of Virginia-based banks.

The banking business in Virginia, and in the Bank’s primary service area in Hampton Roads, is highly competitive for both loans and deposits, and is dominated by a relatively small number of large banks with many offices operating over a wide geographic area. Among the advantages such large banks have over the Company is their ability to finance wide-ranging advertising campaigns and, by virtue of their greater total capitalization, to have substantially higher lending limits than the Bank.

Factors such as interest rates offered, the number and location of branches and the types of products offered, as well as the reputation of the institution affect competition for deposits and loans. The Company competes by emphasizing customer service and technology, establishing long-term customer relationships and building customer loyalty, and providing products and services to address the specific needs of the Company's customers. Through the Bank, the Company targets individual and small-to-medium size business customers.

No material part of the Bank's business is dependent upon a single or a few customers, and the loss of any single customer would not have a materially adverse effect upon the Bank's business.

As of June 30, 2005, the Bank held eighth place with 3% total market share of all Hampton Roads deposits. The Bank's total deposits for the entire Hampton Roads area dipped slightly between June 2004 and June 2005. We remain strong on the Peninsula, with 13% market share, retaining third place.

The Company maintains a website on the Internet at www.oldpoint.com. The Company makes available free of charge, on or through its website, its proxy statements, annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and any amendments to those reports as soon as reasonably practicable after such material is electronically filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). ## REGULATION AND SUPERVISION

Set forth below is a brief description of some of the material laws and regulations that affect the Company. The description of these statutes and regulations is only a summary and does not purport to be complete. This discussion is qualified in its entirety by reference to the statutes and regulations summarized below. No assurance can be given that these statutes or regulations will not change in the future.

General. The Company is subject to the periodic reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), which include, but are not limited to, the filing of annual, quarterly and other reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). As an Exchange Act reporting company, the Company is directly affected by the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "SOX"), which is aimed at improving corporate governance and reporting procedures and requires additional corporate governance measures and expanded disclosure of the Company's corporate operations and internal controls. The Company is complying with the applicable SEC and other rules and regulations implemented pursuant to the SOX and intends to comply with any applicable rules and regulations implemented in the future. Although the Company has incurred and will continue to incur additional expense in complying with the provisions of the SOX and the resulting regulations, this compliance has not had, and is not expected to have, a material impact on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

The Company is a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, and is registered as such with, and subject to the supervision of, the Board of Governors Federal Reserve System (the "FRB"). Generally, a bank holding company is required to obtain the approval of the FRB before it may acquire all or substantially all of the assets of any bank, and before it may acquire ownership or control of the voting shares of any bank if, after giving effect to the acquisition, the bank holding company would own or control more than 5% of the voting shares of such bank. The FRB's approval is also required for the merger or consolidation of bank holding companies.

The Company is required to file periodic reports with the FRB and provide any additional information the FRB may require. The FRB also has the authority to examine the Company and its subsidiaries, as well as any arrangements between the Company and its subsidiaries, with the cost of any such examinations to be borne by the Company.

Banking subsidiaries of bank holding companies are also subject to certain restrictions imposed by Federal law in dealings with their holding companies and other affiliates. Subject to certain restrictions set forth in the Federal Reserve Act, a bank can loan or extend credit to an affiliate, purchase or invest in the securities of an affiliate, purchase assets from an affiliate or issue a guarantee, acceptance or letter of credit on behalf of an affiliate, as long as the aggregate amount of such transactions of a bank and its subsidiaries with its affiliates does not exceed 10% of the capital stock and surplus of the bank on a per affiliate basis or 20% of the capital stock and surplus of the bank on an aggregate affiliate basis. In addition, such transactions must be on terms and conditions that are consistent with safe and sound banking practices. In particular, a bank and its subsidiaries generally may not purchase from an affiliate a low-quality asset, as defined in the Federal Reserve Act. These restrictions also prevent a bank holding company and its other affiliates from borrowing from a banking subsidiary of the bank holding company unless the loans are secured by marketable collateral of designated amounts. Additionally, the Company and its subsidiaries are prohibited from engaging in certain tie-in arrangements in connection with any extension of credit, sale or lease of property or furnishing of services.

A bank holding company is prohibited from engaging in or acquiring direct or indirect ownership or control of more than 5% of the voting shares of any company engaged in nonbanking activities. A bank holding company may, however, engage in or acquire an interest in a company that engages in activities which the FRB has determined by regulation or order are so closely related to banking as to be a proper incident to banking. In making these determinations, the FRB considers whether the performance of such activities by a bank holding company would offer advantages to the public that outweigh possible adverse effects.

As a national bank, the Bank is subject to regulation, supervision and regular examination by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the "Comptroller"). Each depositor's account with the Bank is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the "FDIC") to the maximum amount permitted by law, which is currently $100,000 for each depositor. The Bank is also subject to certain regulations promulgated by the FRB and applicable provisions of Virginia law, insofar as they do not conflict with or are not preempted by Federal banking law.

As a non-depository national banking association, Trust is subject to regulation, supervision and regular examination by the Comptroller. Trust's exercise of fiduciary powers must comply with Regulation 9 promulgated by the Comptroller and with Virginia law.

The regulations of the FDIC, the Comptroller and FRB govern most aspects of the Company's business, including deposit reserve requirements, investments, loans, certain check clearing activities, issuance of securities, payment of dividends, branching, deposit interest rate ceilings and numerous other matters. As a consequence of the extensive regulation of commercial banking activities in the United States, the Company's business is particularly susceptible to changes in state and Federal legislation and regulations, which may have the effect of increasing the cost of doing business, limiting permissible activities or increasing competition.

Capital Requirements. The FRB, the Comptroller and the FDIC have adopted risk-based capital adequacy guidelines for bank holding companies and banks. These capital adequacy regulations are based upon a risk-based capital determination, whereby a bank holding company's capital adequacy is determined in light of the risk, both on- and off-balance sheet, contained in the company's assets. Different categories of assets are assigned risk weightings by the regulatory agencies and are counted as a percentage of their book value. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis – Capital Resources" Part II, Item 7.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991 ("FDICIA"). There are five capital categories applicable to insured institutions, each with specific regulatory consequences. If the appropriate Federal banking agency determines, after notice and an opportunity for hearing, that an insured institution is in an unsafe or unsound condition, it may reclassify the institution to the next lower capital category (other than critically undercapitalized) and require the submission of a plan to correct the unsafe or unsound condition. The Comptroller has issued regulations to implement these provisions. Under these regulations, the categories are:

a. Well Capitalized — the institution exceeds the required minimum level for each relevant capital measure. A well capitalized institution is one (i) having a Risk-based Capital Ratio of 10% or greater, (ii) having a Tier 1 Risk-based Capital Ratio of 6% or greater, (iii) having a Leverage Ratio of 5% or greater and (iv) that is not subject to any order or written directive to meet and maintain a specific capital level for any capital measure.

b. Adequately Capitalized — the institution meets the required minimum level for each relevant capital measure. No capital distribution may be made that would result in the institution becoming undercapitalized. An adequately capitalized institution is one (i) having a Risk-based Capital Ratio of 8% or greater, (ii) having a Tier 1

Risk-based Capital Ratio of 4% or greater and (iii) having a Leverage Ratio of 4% or greater or a Leverage Ratio of 3% or greater if the institution is rated composite 1 under the CAMELS (Capital, Assets, Management, Earnings, Liquidity and Sensitivity to market risk) rating system.

c. Undercapitalized — the institution fails to meet the required minimum level for any relevant capital measure. An undercapitalized institution is one (i) having a Risk-based Capital Ratio of less than 8% or (ii) having a Tier 1 Risk-based Capital Ratio of less than 4% or (iii) having a Leverage Ratio of less than 4%, or if the institution is rated a composite 1 under the CAMELS rating system, a Leverage Ratio of less than 3%.

d. Significantly Undercapitalized — the institution is significantly below the required minimum level for any relevant capital measure. A significantly undercapitalized institution is one (i) having a Risk-based Capital Ratio of less than 6% or (ii) having a Tier 1 Risk-based Capital Ratio of less than 3% or (iii) having a Leverage Ratio of less than 3%.

e. Critically Undercapitalized — the institution fails to meet a critical capital level set by the appropriate federal banking agency. A critically undercapitalized institution is one having a ratio of tangible equity to total assets that is equal to or less than 2%.

An institution which is less than adequately capitalized must adopt an acceptable capital restoration plan, is subject to increased regulatory oversight, and is increasingly restricted in the scope of its permissible activities. Each company having control over an undercapitalized institution must provide a limited guarantee that the institution will comply with its capital restoration plan. Except under limited circumstances consistent with an accepted capital restoration plan, an undercapitalized institution may not grow. An undercapitalized institution may not acquire another institution, establish additional branch offices or engage in any new line of business unless determined by the appropriate Federal banking agency to be consistent with an accepted capital restoration plan, or unless the FDIC determines that the proposed action will further the purpose of prompt corrective action. The appropriate Federal banking agency may take any action authorized for a significantly undercapitalized institution if an undercapitalized institution fails to submit an acceptable capital restoration plan or fails in any material respect to implement a plan accepted by the agency. A critically undercapitalized institution is subject to having a receiver or conservator appointed to manage its affairs and for loss of its charter to conduct banking activities.

An insured depository institution may not pay a management fee to a bank holding company controlling that institution or any other person having control of the institution if, after making the payment, the institution would be undercapitalized. In addition, an institution cannot make a capital distribution, such as a dividend or other distribution that is in substance a distribution of capital to the owners of the institution if following such a distribution the institution would be undercapitalized. Thus, if payment of such a management fee or the making of such dividend would cause the Bank to become undercapitalized, it could not pay a management fee or dividend to the Company.

Deposit Insurance Assessments. FDICIA also requires the FDIC to implement a risk-based assessment system in which the insurance premium relates to the probability that the deposit insurance fund will incur a loss and directs the FDIC to set semi-annual assessments in an amount necessary to increase the reserve ratio of the Bank Insurance Fund to at least 1.25% of insured deposits or a higher percentage as determined to be justified by the FDIC.

The FDIC has promulgated implementing regulations that base an institution's risk category partly upon whether the institution is well capitalized ("1"), adequately capitalized ("2") or under capitalized ("3"), as defined under the Prompt Corrective Action Regulations. In addition, each insured depository institution is assigned to one of three "supervisory subgroups." Subgroup "A" institutions are financially sound institutions with few minor weaknesses, subgroup "B" institutions demonstrate weaknesses which, if not corrected, could result in significant deterioration, and subgroup "C" institutions are those as to which there is a substantial probability that the FDIC will suffer a loss in connection with the institution unless effective action is taken to correct the areas of weakness.

Mortgage Banking Regulation. The Bank's mortgage banking operation is subject to the rules and regulations of, and examination by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration and other federal and state regulatory authorities with respect to originating, processing and selling mortgage loans.

Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999. The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999 (the “GLBA”) implemented major changes to the statutory framework for providing banking and other financial services in the United States. The GLBA, among other things, eliminated many of the restrictions on affiliations among banks and securities firms, insurance firms and other financial service providers. A bank holding company that qualifies as a financial holding company will be permitted to engage in activities that are financial in nature or incident or complementary to financial activities. The activities that the GLBA expressly lists as financial in nature include insurance underwriting, sales and brokerage activities, providing financial and investment advisory services, underwriting services and limited merchant banking activities.

To become eligible for these expanded activities, a bank holding company must qualify as a financial holding company. To qualify as a financial holding company, each insured depository institution controlled by the bank holding company must be well-capitalized, well-managed and have at least a satisfactory rating under the CRA (discussed below). In addition, the bank holding company must file with the FRB a declaration of its intention to become a financial holding company. While the Company satisfies these requirements, the Company has elected for various reasons not to be treated as a financial holding company under the GLBA.

The GLBA has not had a material adverse impact on the Company’s or the Bank’s operations. To the extent that it allows banks, securities firms and insurance firms to affiliate, the financial services industry has experienced further consolidation, which has the result of increasing competition that we face from larger institutions and other companies offering financial products and services, many of which may have substantially greater financial resources.

The GLBA and certain new regulations issued by federal banking agencies also provide protections against the transfer and use by financial institutions of consumer nonpublic personal information. A financial institution must provide to its customers, at the beginning of the customer relationship and annually thereafter, the institution’s policies and procedures regarding the handling of customers’ nonpublic personal financial information. These privacy provisions generally prohibit a financial institution from providing a customer’s personal financial information to unaffiliated third parties unless the institution discloses to the customer that the information may be so provided and the customer is given the opportunity to opt out of such disclosure.

Community Reinvestment Act. The Bank is subject to the requirements of the Community Reinvestment Act (the “CRA”). The CRA imposes on financial institutions an affirmative and ongoing obligation to meet the credit needs of their local communities, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with the safe and sound operation of those institutions. A financial institution’s efforts in meeting community credit needs currently are evaluated as part of the examination process pursuant to twelve assessment factors. These factors also are considered in evaluating mergers, acquisitions and applications to open a branch or facility.

USA PATRIOT Act. The USA PATRIOT Act became effective on October 26, 2001 and provides for the facilitation of information sharing among governmental entities and financial institutions for the purpose of combating terrorism and money laundering. Among other provisions, the USA PATRIOT Act permits financial institutions, upon providing notice to the United States Treasury, to share information with one another in order to better identify and report to the federal government concerning activities that may involve money laundering or terrorists’ activities. The USA PATRIOT Act is considered a significant banking law in terms of information disclosure regarding certain customer transactions. Certain provisions of the USA Patriot Act impose the obligation to establish anti-money laundering programs, including the development of a customer identification program, and the screening of all customers against any government lists of known or suspected terrorists. Although it does create a reporting obligation and compliance costs, the USA PATRIOT Act has not materially affected the Bank’s products, services or other business activities.

Reporting Terrorist Activities. The Federal Bureau of Investigation (“FBI”) has sent, and will send, our banking regulatory agencies lists of the names of persons suspected of involvement in the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on New York City and Washington, DC. The Bank has been requested, and will be requested, to search its records for any relationships or transactions with persons on those lists. If the Bank finds any relationships or transactions, it must file a suspicious activity report and contact the FBI.

The Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”), which is a division of the Department of the Treasury, is responsible for helping to insure that United States entities do not engage in transactions with “enemies” of the United States, as defined by various Executive Orders and Acts of Congress. OFAC has sent, and will send, our banking regulatory agencies lists of names of persons and organizations suspected of aiding, harboring or engaging in terrorist acts. If the Bank finds a name on any transaction, account or wire transfer that is on an OFAC list, it must freeze such account, file a suspicious activity report and notify the FBI. The Bank has appointed an OFAC compliance officer to oversee the inspection of its accounts and the filing of any notifications. The Bank actively checks high-risk OFAC areas such as new accounts, wire transfers and customer files. The Bank performs these checks utilizing software, which is updated each time a modification is made to the lists provided by OFAC and other agencies of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons.

Consumer Laws and Regulations. The Bank is also subject to certain consumer laws and regulations that are designed to protect consumers in transactions with banks. While the list set forth herein is not exhaustive, these laws and regulations include the Truth in Lending Act, the Truth in Savings Act, the Electronic Funds Transfer Act, the Expedited Funds Availability Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Fair Credit Reporting Act and the Fair Housing Act, among others. These laws and regulations mandate certain disclosure requirements and regulate the manner in which financial institutions transact business with customers. The Bank must comply with the applicable provisions of these consumer protection laws and regulations as part of its ongoing customer relations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

The Company is subject to interest rate risk and variations in interest rates may negatively affect its financial performance. The Company’s profitability depends in substantial part on its net interest margin, which is the difference between the rates received on loans and investments and the rates paid for deposits and other sources of funds. The net interest margin depends on many factors that are partly or completely outside of the Company’s control, including competition, federal economic, monetary and fiscal policies, and economic conditions generally. Changes in interest rates affect operating performance and financial condition. The Company tries to minimize its exposure to interest rate risk, but it is unable to completely eliminate this risk. Because of the differences in the maturities and repricing characteristics of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, changes in interest rates do not produce equivalent changes in interest income earned on interest-earning assets and interest paid on interest-bearing liabilities. Accordingly, fluctuations in interest rates could adversely affect the Company’s net interest margin and, in turn, its profitability. At December 31, 2005, based on scheduled maturities only, the Company’s balance sheet was liability sensitive at the one year time frame and, as a result, its net interest margin will tend to decrease in a rising interest rate environment and increase in a declining interest rate environment.

In addition, any substantial and prolonged increase in market interest rates could reduce the Bank’s customers’ desire to borrow money or adversely affect their ability to repay their outstanding loans by increasing their credit costs. Interest rate changes could also affect the fair value of the Company’s financial assets and liabilities. Accordingly, changes in levels of market interest rates could materially and adversely affect the Company’s net interest margin, asset quality, loan origination volume, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The Company’s substantial dependence on dividends from its subsidiaries may prevent it from paying dividends to its stockholders and adversely affect its business, results of operations or financial condition. The Company is a separate legal entity from its subsidiaries and does not have significant operations or revenues of its own. The Company substantially depends on dividends from its subsidiaries to pay dividends to stockholders and to pay its operating expenses. The availability of dividends from the subsidiaries is limited by various statutes and regulations. It is possible, depending upon the financial condition of the Company and other factors, that the OCC could assert that payment of dividends by the subsidiaries is an unsafe or unsound practice. In the event the subsidiaries are unable to pay dividends to the Company, the Company may not be able to pay dividends on the Company’s common stock, service debt or pay operating expenses. Consequently, the inability to receive dividends from the subsidiaries could adversely affect the Company’s financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects and limit stockholders’ return, if any, to capital appreciation..

The Company’s profitability depends significantly on local economic conditions. The Company’s success depends primarily on the general economic conditions of the markets the Company operates in. Unlike larger financial institutions that are more geographically diversified, the Company provides banking and financial services to customers primarily in Eastern Virginia. The local economic conditions in this area have a significant impact on the demand for loans, the ability of the borrowers to repay these loans and the value of the collateral securing these loans. A significant decline in general economic conditions, caused by inflation, recession, acts of terrorism, an outbreak of hostilities or other international or domestic calamities, unemployment or other factors beyond our control could impact these local economic conditions and could negatively affect the financial results of the Company's operations.

A decline in real estate values could cause a significant portion of the Company's loan portfolio to be under-collateralized and adversely impact the Company's operating results and financial condition. The market value of real estate, particularly real estate held for investment, can fluctuate significantly in a short period of time as a result of market conditions in the geographic area in which the real estate is located. If the value of the real estate serving as collateral for the Company's loan portfolio were to decline materially, a significant part of the loan portfolio could become under-collateralized. If the loans that are collateralized by real estate become troubled during a time when market conditions are declining or have declined, then, in the event of foreclosure, the Company may not be able to realize the amount of collateral that it anticipated at the time of originating the loan. In that event, the Company may have to increase its provision for loan losses, which could have a material adverse effect on its operating results and financial condition.

Market Risk affects the earnings of Trust. The fee structure of Trust is generally based upon the market value of accounts under administration. Most of these accounts are invested in equities of publicly traded companies and debt obligations of both government agencies and publicly traded companies. As such, fluctuations in the equity and debt markets in general can have a direct impact upon the earnings of Trust.

The Company may be adversely affected by changes in government monetary policy. As a bank holding company, business is affected by the monetary policies established by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, which regulates the national money supply in order to mitigate recessionary and inflationary pressures. In setting its policy, the Federal Reserve may utilize techniques such as the following:

- Engaging in open market transactions in United States government securities;
- Setting the discount rate on member bank borrowings; and
- Determining reserve requirements.

These techniques may have an adverse effect on deposit levels, net interest margin, loan demand or the Company's business and operations.

The allowance for loan losses may not be adequate to cover actual losses. A significant source of risk arises from the possibility that losses could be sustained because borrowers, guarantors, and related parties may fail to perform in accordance with the terms of their loans and leases. Like all financial institutions, the Company maintains an allowance for loan losses to provide for loan defaults and non-performance. The allowance for loan losses may not be adequate to cover actual loan losses. In addition, future provisions for loan losses could materially and adversely affect the Company's operating results. The allowance for loan losses is determined by analyzing historical loan losses, current trends in delinquencies and charge-offs, plans for problem loan resolutions, changes in the size and composition of the loan portfolio and industry information. Also included in management's estimates for loan losses are considerations with respect to the impact of economic events, the outcome of which are uncertain. The amount of future losses is susceptible to changes in economic and other conditions, including changes in interest rates, that may be beyond the Company's control and these future losses may exceed current estimates. Federal regulatory agencies, as an integral part of their examination process, review the Company's loans and allowance for loan losses. While management believes that the Company's allowance is adequate to cover current losses, the Company cannot assure investors that it will not need to increase the allowance or that regulators will not require the allowance to be increased. Either of these occurrences could materially and adversely affect earnings and profitability.

The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to extensive regulation which could adversely affect them. The Company is subject to extensive regulation by federal, state and local governmental authorities and is subject to various laws and judicial and administrative decisions imposing requirements and restrictions on part or all of operations. Regulations adopted by these agencies, which are generally intended to protect depositors and customers rather than to benefit stockholders, govern a comprehensive range of matters including, without limitation, ownership and control of the Company's shares, acquisition of other companies and businesses, permissible activities for the Company and its subsidiaries may engage in, maintenance of adequate capital levels and other aspects of operations. These regulations could limit the Company's growth by restricting certain of its activities. The laws, rules and regulations applicable to the Company are subject to regular modification and change. Regulatory changes could subject the Company to more demanding regulatory compliance requirements which could affect the Company in unpredictable and adverse ways. Such changes could subject the Company to additional costs, limit the types of financial services and products it may offer and/or increase the ability of non-banks to offer competing financial services and products, among other things. Failure to comply with laws, regulations or policies could result in sanctions by regulatory agencies, civil money penalties and/or reputation damage, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. Legislation and regulatory initiative containing wide-ranging proposals for altering the structure, regulation and competitive relationship of financial institutions are introduced regularly. The Company cannot predict whether or what form of proposed statute or regulation will be adopted or the extent to which such adoption may affect our business.

The Company's future success depends on its ability to compete effectively in the highly competitive financial services industry. The Company faces substantial competition in all phases of its operations from a variety of different competitors. Growth and success depends on the Company's ability to compete effectively in this highly competitive financial services environment. Many competitors offer products and services that are not offered by the Company, and many have substantially greater resources, name recognition and market presence that benefit them in attracting business. In addition, larger competitors may be able to price loans and deposit more aggressively and may have larger lending limits that would allow them to serve the credit needs of larger customers. Some of the financial service organizations with which the Company competes are not subject to the same degree of regulation as is imposed on bank holding companies and federally insured national banks. As a result, these non-bank competitors have certain advantages over the Company in accessing funding and in providing various services. The financial services industry could become even more competitive as a result of legislative, regulatory and technological changes and continued consolidation. Failure to compete effectively to attract new and retain current customers in the Company's markets could cause it to lose market share, slow its growth rate and may have an adverse effect on its financial condition and results of operations.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely impact the Company's business, financial condition and results of operation. Reputation risk, or the risk to the Company's business, financial condition and results of operation from negative public opinion, is inherent in the financial services industry. Negative public opinion can result from actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, including lending practices and corporate governance, and from actions taken by government regulators and community organizations in response to those activities. Negative public opinion could adversely affect the Company's ability to keep and attract customers and employees and could expose it to litigation and regulatory action. Damage to the Company's reputation could adversely affect deposits and loans and otherwise negatively affect the Company's business, financial condition and results of operation.

The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to transaction risk, which could adversely affect business, financial condition and results of operation. The Company and its subsidiaries, like all businesses, are subject to transaction risk, which is the risk of loss resulting from human error, fraud or unauthorized transactions due to inadequate or failed internal processes and systems, and external events that are wholly or partially beyond the Company's control (including, for example, computer viruses or electrical or telecommunications outages). Transaction risk also encompasses compliance (legal) risk, which is the risk of loss from violations of, or noncompliance with, laws, rules, regulations, prescribed practices or ethical standards. Although the Company and its subsidiaries seek to mitigate operational risk through a system of internal controls, there can be no assurance that they will not suffer losses from operational risks in the future that may be material in amount. Any losses resulting from transaction risk could take the form of explicit charges, increased operational costs, litigation costs, harm to reputation or forgone opportunities, any and all of which could have a material adverse effect on business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Bank owns the main office located in Hampton, Virginia, five office buildings and 12 branches. All of these are owned directly and free of any encumbrances. The land at the Fort Monroe branch is leased by the Bank under an agreement expiring in October 2011. The remaining four branches are leased from unrelated parties under leases with renewal options that expire in anywhere from three to eight years.

For more information concerning the commitments under current leasing agreements, see Note 11 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8, “Financial Statements and Supplementary Data” of this report on Form 10-K.

The Bank owns one property in Isle of Wight County which is designated as a future branch location. The Bank anticipates opening this branch in the first quarter of 2006. The Bank has entered into a contract for $4.0 million to purchase a parcel of land and the improvements located thereon in the City of Virginia Beach. The closing on this property is scheduled for the third quarter of 2006. This location is currently planned to be used as a branch location.

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operation

The following discussion is intended to assist readers in understanding and evaluating the financial condition, changes in financial condition and the results of operations of the Company, consisting of the parent company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, the Bank and Trust. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and other financial information contained elsewhere in this report.

Caution About Forward-Looking Statements

In addition to historical information, this report may contain forward-looking statements. For this purpose, any statement, that is not a statement of historical fact may be deemed to be a forward-looking statement. These forward-looking statements may include statements regarding profitability, liquidity, allowance for loan losses, interest rate sensitivity, market risk, growth strategy and financial and other goals. Forward-looking statements often use words such as "believes," "expects," "plans," "may," "will," "should," "projects," "contemplates," "anticipates," "forecasts," "intends" or other words of similar meaning. You can also identify them by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. Forward-looking statements are subject to numerous assumptions, risks and uncertainties, and actual results could differ materially from historical results or those anticipated by such statements.

Factors that could have a material adverse effect on the operations and future prospects of the Company include, but are not limited to, changes in: interest rates, general economic conditions, monetary and fiscal policies of the U.S. Government, including policies of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, U.S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board, the quality or composition of the loan or investment portfolios, demand for loan products, deposit flows, competition, and accounting principles, policies and guidelines. These risks and uncertainties should be considered in evaluating the forward-looking statements contained herein, and readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such statements. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which it is made, and we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which it is made. In addition, past results of operations are not necessarily indicative of future results.

Executive Overview

Description of Operations

Headquartered in Hampton, Virginia, the Company is the locally-owned parent company of Trust and the Bank. Trust is a wealth management services provider. The Bank offers a complete line of consumer, mortgage and business banking services, including loan, deposit, cash management, and investment management services to individual and business customers. The Bank is an independent community bank with 18 branches throughout the Hampton Roads localities of Chesapeake, Hampton, Newport News, Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Williamsburg/James City County and York County.

Primary Financial Data for 2005

The Company earned $7.3 million in 2005, a 15.29% decrease in net income from 2004. The $7.3 million was below what the Company had expected. The decrease in net income was directly impacted by the net interest margin. While total interest income rose by $2.8 million, total interest expense rose by $3.1 million. The Company provided $200 thousand more in the provision for loan loss in 2005 compared to the 2004 provision. Therefore, net interest income after provision for loan loss was $425 thousand less in 2005 when compared to 2004. In addition, two noninterest expense items, salaries and benefits and marketing expenses, were substantially higher than in 2004. Staffing levels increased by 18 full-time-equivalent positions in support of two new branches that opened during the year and one that is anticipated to open during the first quarter of 2006. Marketing expenses rose, in part because of expenses associated with the opening of new offices and also because of direct mail and other expenditures in support of bank wide new consumer checking account initiatives.

Management considers 2005 as a year that the Company is building for the future. With the investment in two new branches and the funding of a consumer deposit initiative, the Company is poised for growth and increased earnings in the future.

Significant Factors Affecting Earnings in 2006

Earnings in 2006 will be affected by the Company's plans to open a branch office in the Eagle Harbor section of Isle of Wight during the first quarter of 2006. In addition, the Company has signed a contract to purchase a branch office in Virginia Beach, scheduled to close later in 2006. Plans call for the branch to open in 2007 after renovations are complete.

Table of Contents

While the Company continues to enhance its branch network, it will also utilize advances in technology to improve the delivery of services to its customers. The Company has recently enhanced its internet banking site and will continue to explore other features on this site. The Company is also enhancing the Bank's intranet to deliver more information to the desktop of all employees, which in turn will enhance customer service. In 2005, the Bank upgraded its branch computer system and converted the teller and platform sales programs. As new technology is developed, the Company will strive to utilize it to meet the needs of its customers.

The 2005 new consumer checking account initiative increased the Company's customer base. In 2006, management will focus on cross-selling other products and services to these new customers in order to build stronger and longer lasting relationships. In addition, the Company will strive to locate sources of low cost deposits in order to improve the net interest margin.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company are in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and conform to general practices within the banking industry. The Company's financial position and results of operations are affected by management's application of accounting policies, including estimates, assumptions and judgments made to arrive at the carrying value of assets and liabilities and amounts reported for revenues, expenses and related disclosures. Different assumptions in the application of these policies could result in material changes in the Company's consolidated financial position and/or results of operations. The accounting policy that required management's most difficult, subjective or complex judgments is the Company's Allowance for Loan Losses, which is described below.

Allowance for Loan Losses

The allowance for loan losses is an estimate of the losses that may be sustained in the loan portfolio. The allowance is based on three basic principles of accounting: (i) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 5, "Accounting for Contingencies," which requires that losses be accrued when they are probable of occurring and estimable, (ii) SFAS No. 114, "Accounting by Creditors for Impairment of a Loan," which requires that losses be accrued based on the differences between the value of collateral, present value of future cash flows or values that are observable in the secondary market and the loan balance and (iii) U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) No. 102, "Selected Loan Loss Allowance Methodology and Documentation Issues," which requires adequate documentation to support the allowance for loan losses estimate.

The Company's allowance for loan losses is the accumulation of various components that are calculated based on independent methodologies. All components of the allowance represent an estimation performed pursuant to either SFAS No. 5 or SFAS No. 114. Management's estimate of each SFAS No. 5 component is based on certain observable data that management believes are most reflective of the underlying credit losses being estimated. This evaluation includes credit quality trends; collateral values; loan volumes; geographic, borrower and industry concentrations; seasoning of the loan portfolio; the findings of internal credit quality assessments and results from external bank regulatory examinations. These factors, as well as historical losses and current economic and business conditions, are used in developing estimated loss factors used in the calculations.

The Company adopted SFAS No. 114, which has been amended by SFAS No. 118, "Accounting by Creditors for Impairment of a Loan - Income Recognition and Disclosures" ("SFAS No. 118"). SFAS No. 114, as amended, requires that the impairment of loans that have been separately identified for evaluation be measured based on the present value of expected future cash flows or, alternatively, the observable market price of the loans or the fair value of the collateral. However, for those loans that are collateral dependent (that is, if repayment of those loans is expected to be provided solely by the underlying collateral) and for which management has determined foreclosure is probable, the measure of impairment is to be based on the net realizable value of the collateral. SFAS No. 114, as amended, also requires certain disclosures about investments in impaired loans and the allowance for loan losses and interest income recognized on loans.

Reserves for commercial loans are determined by applying estimated loss factors to the portfolio based on management's evaluation and "risk grading" of the commercial loan portfolio. Reserves are provided for noncommercial loan categories using estimated loss factors applied to the total outstanding loan balance of each loan category. Specific reserves are determined on a loan-by-loan basis based on management's evaluation of the Company's exposure for each credit, given the current payment status of the loan and the net market value of any underlying collateral.

While management uses the best information available to establish the allowance for loan and lease losses, future adjustment to the allowance may be necessary if economic conditions differ substantially from the assumptions used in making the valuations or if required by regulators, based upon information available to them at the time of their examinations. Such adjustments to original estimates, as necessary, are made in the period in which these factors and other relevant considerations indicate that loss levels may vary from previous estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company recognizes expense for federal income and state bank franchise taxes payable as well as deferred federal income taxes for estimated future tax effects of temporary differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements. Income and franchise tax returns are subject to audit by the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities. Income and franchise tax expense for current and prior periods is subject to adjustment based on the outcome of such audits. The Company believes it has adequately provided for all taxes payable.

Earnings Summary

Net income was $7.3 million, or $1.78 diluted earnings per share in 2005 compared to $8.6 million, or $2.10 diluted earnings per share in 2004 and $7.8 million, or $1.92 diluted earnings per share in 2003. As stated in the Executive Overview above, net income for 2005 was below expectations due to a lower than expected net interest income. Our loan yield was below what was expected because of strong competition and the flat yield curve. In addition, our cost of funds was above what was expected due to lower than expected noninterest-bearing deposits. With the increase in interest rates commercial deposit customers received a higher earnings credit for funds on deposit. The higher earnings credit allowed depositors to keep lower balances in their noninterest-bearing operating account to cover service charges. Therefore, noninterest-bearing deposits dropped by $2.8 million. The low cost funds were replaced with higher cost time deposits and Federal Home Loan Bank advances in order to fund the $61 million loan growth experienced in 2005. This movement for source of funds from noninterest-bearing deposits to higher cost funds caused net interest income for 2005 to be below 2004.

Return on average assets was 1.03% in 2005, 1.28% in 2004 and 1.30% in 2003. Return on average equity was 10.31% in 2005, 12.91% in 2004 and 12.81% in 2003. Both return on average assets and return on average equity were lower in 2005 because of reduction in net income.

Net Interest Income

The principal source of earnings for the Company is net interest income. Net interest income is the difference between interest and fees generated by earning assets and interest expense paid to fund them. Changes in the volume and mix of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, as well as their respective yields and rates, have a significant impact on the level of net interest income. The net interest yield is calculated by dividing tax equivalent net interest income by average earning assets. Net interest income, on a fully tax equivalent basis, was $25.1 million in 2005, down $325 thousand from 2004 and up $378 thousand from 2003. The net interest yield was 3.81% in 2005 as compared to 4.05% in 2004 and 4.37% in 2003. The net interest yield was lower in 2005 as compared to 2004 because the rates paid on interest-bearing liabilities increased more than the rates earned on interest-earning assets.

Tax equivalent interest income increased $2.7 million, or 7.92%, in 2005. Average earning assets grew $30.9 million, or 4.92%. Total average loans increased $31.3 million, or 7.47%, while average investment securities increased $4.7 million, or 2.42%. The yield on earning assets increased in 2005 by sixteen basis points primarily due to increasing yields in the loan portfolio.

Interest expense increased $3.1 million or 33.2%, in 2005 while interest-bearing liabilities increased 8.62% in 2005. The cost of funding those liabilities increased 43 basis points due to higher interest rates.

The following table shows an analysis of average earning assets, interest-bearing liabilities and rates and yields. Nonaccrual loans are included in loans outstanding.

Interest Sensitivity

An important element of earnings performance and the maintenance of sufficient liquidity is proper management of the interest sensitivity gap and liquidity gap. The interest sensitivity gap is the difference between interest sensitive assets and interest sensitive liabilities in a specific time interval. This gap can be managed by repricing assets or liabilities, which are variable rate instruments, by replacing an asset or liability at maturity or by adjusting the interest rate during the life of the asset or liability. Matching the amounts of assets and liabilities maturing in the same time interval helps to hedge interest rate risk and to minimize the impact of rising or falling interest rates on net interest income.

The Company determines the overall magnitude of interest sensitivity risk and then formulates policies governing asset generating and pricing, funding sources and pricing, and off-balance sheet commitments. These decisions are based on management's expectations regarding future interest rate movements, the state of the national and regional economy, and other financial and business risk factors. The Company uses computer simulations to measure the effect of various interest rate scenarios on net interest income. This modeling reflects interest rate changes and the related impact on net interest income and net income over specified time horizons.

Based on scheduled maturities only, the Company was liability sensitive at the one-year timeframe as of December 31, 2005. It should be noted, however, that non-maturing deposit liabilities, which consist of interest checking, money market and savings accounts, are less interest sensitive than other market driven deposits. On December 31, 2005 non-maturing deposit liabilities totaled $196 million, or 37%, of total interest-bearing liabilities. In a rising rate environment these deposit rates have historically lagged behind the changes in earning asset rates, thus mitigating the impact from the liability sensitivity position. The asset/liability model allows the Company to reflect the fact that non-maturing deposits are less rate sensitive than other deposits by using a decay rate. The decay rate is a type of artificial maturity that simulates maturities for non-maturing deposits over the number of months that more closely reflects historic data. Using the decay rate, the model reveals that the Company is slightly asset sensitive.

When the Company is liability sensitive, net interest income should decrease if interest rates rise since liability will reprice faster than assets. Conversely, if interest rates fall, net interest income should increase, depending on the optionality (prepayment speeds) of the assets. When the Company is asset sensitive, net interest income should rise if rates rise and should fall if rates fall.

The most likely scenario represents the rate environment as management forecasts it to occur. From this scenario, rate shocks in 100 basis point increments are applied to see the impact on the Company's earnings. The rate shock model reveals that a 100 basis point drop in rates would cause approximately a 1.62% decrease in net income. The rate shock model reveals that a 100 basis point rise in rates would cause approximately a .61% decrease in net income and that a 200 basis point rise in rates would cause approximately a 1.85% decrease in net income at December 31, 2005.

Provision for Loan Losses

The provision for loan losses is a charge against earnings necessary to maintain the allowance for loan losses at a level consistent with management's evaluation of the loan portfolio.

The provision for loan losses increased to $1.1 million in 2005 as compared to $850 thousand in 2004 and $1.0 million in 2003. The increase was due to loan growth of $61 million and factored into the quarterly calculation of the allowance for loan loss.

Loans that were charged off during 2005 totaled $1.3 million compared to $1.7 million in 2004 and $1.2 million in 2003. Recoveries amounted to $370 thousand in 2005, $351 thousand in 2004 and $462 thousand in 2003. The Company's net loans charged off to year-end loans were 0.20% in 2005, 0.32% in 2004, and 0.19% in 2003. The allowance for loan losses, as a percentage of year-end loans, was .90% in 2005, .99% in 2004, and 1.19% in 2003.

As of December 31, 2005, nonperforming assets were $473 thousand, down from $567 thousand at year-end 2004. Nonperforming assets consist of loans in nonaccrual status and other real estate. The 2005 total consisted of other real estate of $165 thousand and $308 thousand in nonaccrual loans. The other real estate consists of $165 thousand in commercial property originally acquired as a potential branch site and now listed for sale. Nonaccrual loans consisted of $103 thousand in real estate loans and $205 thousand in commercial loans not secured by real estate. Loans still accruing interest but past due 90 days or more decreased to $935 thousand as of December 31, 2005 compared to $1.1 million as of December 31, 2004.

Noninterest Income

Noninterest income increased $945 thousand, or 10.03%, in 2005 from 2004 compared to an increase of $2.0 million, or 26.14%, in 2004 from 2003. The majority of the growth in noninterest income is attributed to increases in service charges on deposit accounts and other service charges, commissions and fees.

The increase in service charges on deposits accounts is because the Company experienced a full year of fees associated with the service called Old Point Overdraft Privilege, which began in April 2004. The growth in other service charges, commissions and fees is related to an increased volume of debit card transactions. The increased volume of debit card transactions is partially related to the bank wide new consumer checking account initiative.

Noninterest Expenses

Noninterest expenses increased $2.4 million, or 11.40%, in 2005 over 2004 after increasing $1.6 million, or 8.04%, in 2004 over 2003. As in 2004 one cause of the increase was salaries and employee benefits which increased by $1.2 million, or 8.92%. The increase in the salaries and employee benefits category occurred because staffing levels increased by 18 full-time-equivalent positions in support of two new branches that opened during 2005 and one that is anticipated to open during the first quarter of 2006.

Another category of noninterest expense that increased substantially was marketing expense. Marketing expense increased $406 thousand or 118.71% in 2005 over 2004. Marketing expenses rose in part because of expenses associated with the opening of new offices and also because of direct mail and other expenditures in support of bank wide new consumer checking account initiatives.

Balance Sheet Review

At December 31, 2005, the Company had total assets of $740.0 million, up 7.83% when compared to December 31, 2004. Total loans as of December 31, 2005 were $494.7 million, an increase of 14.18% from the prior year. The majority of this growth occurred in the second half of 2005 and was predominantly in the real estate category of loans. Note 4. of the consolidated financial statements details the loan balance by category for the past two years.

Total investment securities at December 31, 2005 were $196.1 million, a decrease of 7.00%, from December 31, 2004. The goal of the Company is to provide maximum return on the investment portfolio within the framework of its asset/liability objectives. These objectives include managing interest sensitivity, liquidity and pledging requirements. Due to the strong loan growth in 2005, the Company did not have excess liquidity to place in the investment portfolio.

At December 31, 2005, total deposits increased to $536.7 million, an increase of 4.80% from $512.2 million on December 31, 2004. Noninterest-bearing deposits decreased $2.8 million, or 2.80% at year-end 2005 over 2004. Savings and interest-bearing deposits decreased $4.7 million, or 2.32% in 2005 over 2004. Time deposits increased $32.1 million, or 15.26% in 2005 from 2004. Several new time deposit products were introduced in 2005 that offered a choice of higher rates or special features. Management's goal for 2006 is to reverse the downward trend of noninterest-bearing and savings deposits as these funds provide a low cost source of funds for our lending divisions.

Loans are placed in nonaccrual status if principal or interest has been in default for a period of 90 days or more unless the obligation is both well secured and in the process of collection. A debt is “well secured” if it is secured (i) by collateral in the form of liens on or pledges of real or personal property, including securities, that have a realizable value sufficient to discharge the debt in full or (ii) by the guaranty of a financially responsible party. A debt is “in the process of collection” if collection of the debt is proceeding in due course either through legal action, including judgment enforcement procedures, or, in appropriate circumstances, through collection efforts not involving legal action which are reasonably expected to result in repayment of the debt or in its restoration to a current status.

Potential problem loans consist of loans that, because of potential credit problems of the borrowers, have caused management to have serious doubts as to the ability of such borrowers to comply with the loan repayment terms. At December 31, 2005 such problem loans, not included in Table VII, amounted to approximately $4.1 million.

Summary of Loan Loss Experience

The determination of the balance of the Allowance for Loan Losses is based upon a review and analysis of the loan portfolio and reflects an amount which, in management’s judgment, is adequate to provide for possible future losses. Management’s review includes monthly analysis of past due and nonaccrual loans and detailed periodic loan by loan analyses.

The principal factors considered by management in determining the adequacy of the allowance are the growth and composition of the loan portfolio, historical loss experience, the level of nonperforming loans, economic conditions, the value and adequacy of collateral, and the current level of the allowance.

Capital Resources

Total stockholders' equity as of December 31, 2005 was $71.1 million, up 2.77% from $69.1 million on December 31, 2004. The Company's capital position remains strong as evidenced by the regulatory capital measurements. Under the banking regulations, Total Capital is composed of core capital (Tier 1) and supplemental capital (Tier 2). Tier 1 capital consists of common stockholders' equity less goodwill. Tier 2 capital consists of certain qualifying debt and a qualifying portion of the allowance for loan losses. The following is a summary of the Company's capital ratios for 2005, 2004 and 2003. As shown below, these ratios were all well above the regulatory minimum levels.

Liquidity

Liquidity is the ability of the Company to meet present and future financial obligations through either the sale or maturity of existing assets or the acquisition of additional funds through liability management. Liquid assets include cash, interest-bearing deposits with banks, federal funds sold, investments in securities and loans maturing within one year.

In addition, secondary sources are available through the use of borrowed funds if the need should arise. The Company's sources of funds include a large stable deposit base and secured advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank. As of December 31, 2005, the Company had $140 million in Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) borrowing availability. The Company has available short-term unsecured borrowed funds in the form of federal funds with correspondent banks. As of year-end 2005, the Company had $40 million available in federal funds to handle any short-term borrowing needs.

As a result of the Company's management of liquid assets, availability of borrowed funds and the ability to generate liquidity through liability funding, management believes that the Company maintains overall liquidity sufficient to satisfy its depositors' requirements and to meet its customers' future borrowing needs.

The following table sets forth information relating to the Company's sources of liquidity and the outstanding commitments for use for liquidity at December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004. Dividing the total sources of liquidity by the outstanding commitments for use of liquidity derives the liquidity coverage ratio.

The Uses line titled “Commitments to Purchase Assets” includes an agreement to purchase a $3.95 million parcel of land and its improvements in Virginia Beach. This land is for a future branch site. Management is not aware of any market or institutional trends, events or uncertainties that are expected to have a material effect on the liquidity, capital resources or operations of the Company. Nor is management aware of any current recommendations by regulatory authorities that would have a material effect on liquidity, capital resources or operations. The Company’s internal sources of such liquidity are deposits, loan and investment repayments and securities available for sale. The Company’s primary external source of liquidity is advances from the FHLB of Atlanta.

Effects of Inflation

Management believes that the key to achieving satisfactory performance in an inflationary environment is its ability to maintain or improve its net interest margin and to generate additional fee income. The Company’s policy of investing in and funding with interest-sensitive assets and liabilities is intended to reduce the risks inherent in a volatile inflationary economy.

Off-Balance Sheet Lending Related Commitments

The Company had $114.5 million in consumer and commercial commitments at December 31, 2005. The Company also had $6.1 million at December 31, 2005 in letters of credit that the Bank will fund if certain future events occur.

The Company has the liquidity and capital resources to handle these commitments in the normal course of business.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Stockholders and Board of Directors
Old Point Financial Corporation
Hampton, Virginia

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Old Point Financial Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the related consolidated statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004. The financial statements of Old Point Financial Corporation and subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 2003 was audited by other auditors whose report, dated February 27, 2004, expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements. We also have audited management's assessment, included in the accompanying Management Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting that Old Point Financial Corporation and subsidiaries maintained effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005, based on criteria established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). Old Point Financial Corporation and subsidiaries' management is responsible for these financial statements, for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for their assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, an opinion on management's assessment, and an opinion on the effectiveness of Old Point Financial Corporation and subsidiaries' internal control over financial reporting based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement and whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit of financial statements included examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, evaluating management's assessment, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

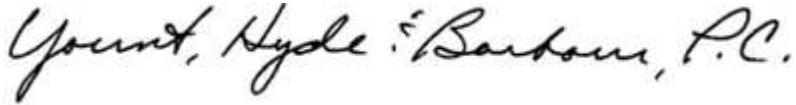

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*NOTE 1, SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES*PRINCIPLES OF CONSOLIDATION:

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Old Point Financial Corporation (the “Company”) and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, The Old Point National Bank of Phoebus (the “Bank”) and Old Point Trust & Financial Services N.A. (“Trust”). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

NATURE OF OPERATIONS:

Old Point Financial Corporation is a holding company that conducts substantially all of its operations through two subsidiaries, The Old Point National Bank of Phoebus and Old Point Trust and Financial Services, N.A. The Bank services individual and commercial customers, the majority of which are in Hampton Roads. As of December 31, 2005, the Bank had 18 branch offices. The Bank offers a full range of deposit and loan products to its retail and commercial customers. Trust offers a full range of services for individuals and businesses. Products and services include retirement planning, estate planning, financial planning, trust accounts, tax services and investment management services.

USE OF ESTIMATES:

In preparing consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the balance sheet and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance for loan losses and the valuation of deferred tax assets.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS:

For purposes of the consolidated statements of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash and balances due from banks and federal funds sold, all which mature within 90 days.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES:

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 115, “Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities” (“SFAS 115”), addresses the accounting and reporting for investments in equity securities that have readily determinable fair values and for all investments in debt securities. Those investments are to be classified in two categories and accounted for as follows:

- Held-to-maturity - Debt securities for which the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity are classified as held-to-maturity securities and reported at cost, adjusted for premiums and discounts that are recognized in interest income using the interest method over the period to maturity.
- Available-for-sale - Debt and equity securities not classified as held-to-maturity securities are classified as available-for-sale securities and recorded at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses reported as a component of comprehensive income. Gains and losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities are determined using the specific identification method.

Purchase premiums and discounts are recognized in interest income using the interest method over the terms of the securities. Declines in the fair value of held-to-maturity and available-for-sale securities below their cost that are deemed to be other than temporary are reflected in earnings as realized losses. In estimating other-than-temporary impairment losses, management considers (i) the length of time and the extent to which the fair value has been less than cost, (ii) the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, and (iii) the intent and ability of the Company to retain its investment in the issuer for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in fair value.

LOANS:

The Company grants mortgage, commercial and consumer loans to customers. A substantial portion of the loan portfolio is represented by mortgage loans throughout Hampton Roads. The ability of the Company’s debtors to honor their contracts is dependent upon the real estate and general economic conditions in this area.

Table of Contents

Loans that management has the intent and ability to hold for the foreseeable future or until maturity or pay-off generally are reported at their outstanding unpaid principal balances adjusted for charge-offs, the allowance for loan losses and any deferred fees or costs on originated loans. Interest income is accrued on the unpaid principal balance. Loan origination fees and certain direct origination costs are capitalized and recognized as an adjustment of the yield on the related loan.

Accrual of interest is discontinued on a loan when management believes, after considering collection efforts and other factors, that the borrower's financial condition is such that collection of interest is doubtful.

All interest accrued but not collected for loans that are placed on non-accrual or charged off is reversed against interest income. The interest on these loans is accounted for on the cash basis or cost recovery method, until qualifying for return to accrual. Loans are returned to accrual status when all the principal and interest amounts contractually due are brought current and future payments are reasonably assured.

ALLOWANCE FOR LOAN LOSSES:

The allowance for loan losses is established as losses are estimated to have occurred through a provision for loan losses charged to earnings. Loan losses are charged against the allowance when management believes the uncollectibility of a loan balance is confirmed. Subsequent recoveries, if any, are credited to the allowance.

The allowance for loan losses is evaluated on a regular basis by management and is based upon management's periodic review of the collectibility of the loans in light of historical experience, the nature and volume of the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, estimated value of any underlying collateral and prevailing economic conditions. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available.

The allowance consists of specific and general components. The specific component relates to loans that are classified as doubtful, substandard or special mention. For such loans that are also classified as impaired, an allowance is established when the discounted cash flows (or collateral value or observable market price) of the impaired loan is lower than the carrying value of that loan. The general component covers non-classified loans and is based on historical loss experience adjusted for qualitative factors.

A loan is considered impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that the Company will be unable to collect the scheduled payments of principal or interest when due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral value and the probability of collecting scheduled principal and interest payments when due. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays and payment shortfalls generally are not classified as impaired. Management determines the significance of payment delays and payment shortfalls on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration all of the circumstances surrounding the loan and the borrower, including the length of the delay, the reasons for the delay, the borrower's prior payment record, and the amount of the shortfall in relation to the principal and interest owed. Impairment is measured on a loan by loan basis for commercial and construction loans by either the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate, the loan's obtainable market price, or the fair value of the collateral if the loan is collateral dependent.

Large groups of smaller balance homogeneous loans are collectively evaluated for impairment. Accordingly, the Company does not separately identify individual consumer and residential loans for impairment disclosures, unless such loans are the subject of a restructuring agreement.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET CREDIT RELATED FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS:

In the ordinary course of business, the Company has entered into commitments to extend credit, including commitments under commercial letters of credit and lines of credit. Such financial instruments are recorded when they are funded.

OTHER REAL ESTATE OWNED:

Other real estate owned is carried at the lower of cost or estimated fair value and consists of foreclosed real property and other property held for sale. The estimated fair value is reviewed periodically by management and any write-downs are charged against current earnings.

PREMISES AND EQUIPMENT:

Land is carried at cost. Premises and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Premises and equipment are depreciated over their estimated useful lives ranging from three to 39 years; leasehold improvements are amortized over the lives of the respective leases or the estimated useful life of the leasehold improvement, whichever is less. Software is amortized over its estimated useful life ranging from three to five years. Depreciation and amortization are calculated on the straight-line method.

INCOME TAXES:

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are determined using the liability (or balance sheet) method. Under this method, the new deferred tax asset or liability is determined based on the tax effects of the temporary differences between the book and tax basis of the various balance sheet assets and liabilities and gives current recognition to changes in tax rates and laws.

PENSION PLAN:

The Company has a non-contributory defined benefit pension plan covering substantially all of its employees. Benefits are based on years of service and average earnings during the highest average 60 month period during the final 120 months of employment.

The Company's policy is to fund the maximum amount of contributions allowed for tax purposes. The Company accrues an amount equal to its actuarially computed obligation under the plan.

The actuarial valuation was performed using the frozen initial liability cost method. Under this method, the Company's contribution equals the sum of the amount necessary to amortize the frozen initial liability (past service base) over a period of years and the normal cost of the plan.

STOCK COMPENSATION PLANS :

SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" ("SFAS No. 123") encourages all entities to adopt a fair value based method of accounting for employee stock compensation plans, whereby compensation cost is measured at the grant date based on the value of the award and is recognized over the service period, which is usually the vesting period. However, it also allows an entity to continue to measure compensation cost for those plans using the intrinsic value based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" whereby compensation cost is the excess, if any, of the quoted market price of the stock at the grant date (or other measurement date) over the amount an employee must pay to acquire the stock. The Company has elected to continue with the accounting methodology in Opinion No. 25 through December 31, 2005. Stock options issued under the Company's stock option plan have no intrinsic value at the grant date, and under Opinion No. 25 compensation cost is not recognized. The Company will adopt SFAS No. 123R in 2006.

Had compensation cost for the Company's stock option plan been determined based on the fair value at the grant dates for awards under the plan consistent with the method prescribed by SFAS No. 123, the Company's net income and earnings per share would have been adjusted to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

The pro forma disclosures include the effects of all unexpired awards.

Pro forma amounts in 2005 and 2004 were computed using a 4.73% risk-free interest rate over a 10-year term using an annual dividend rate of 2.07% and a 31.60% volatility rate. The pro forma amount was not computed in 2003 because all options were fully vested.

The pro forma effect of the potential exercise of stock options on basic earnings per share would be to increase the number of weighted average outstanding shares by approximately 77,000 in 2005 and 89,000 in 2004.

The Company did not issue any stock options in 2005 and 2003. However, options issued in 2004 became fully vested in 2005.

EARNINGS PER COMMON SHARE:

Basic earnings per share represents income available to common stockholders divided by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects additional common shares that would have been outstanding if dilutive potential common shares had been issued, as well as any adjustment to income that would result from the assumed issuance. Potential common shares that may be issued by the Company relate solely to outstanding stock options and are determined using the treasury stock method.

Earnings per common share have been computed based on the following:

|   | Years Ended December 31, |         |         |
|---|--------------------------|---------|---------|
|   | 2005                     | 2004    | 2003    |

| Average number of common shares outstanding used to calculate diluted earnings per common share | 4,093                    | 4,086   | 4,080   |

There were no anti-dilutive shares in 2005, 2004 or 2003.

TRUST ASSETS AND INCOME:

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS:

In November 2005, Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Staff Position (FSP) 115-1 “The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments” (“FSP 115-1”) was issued. FSP 115-1 addresses the determination as to when an investment is considered impaired, whether that impairment is other than temporary, and the measurement of an impairment loss. This FSP also includes accounting considerations subsequent to the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment and requires certain disclosures about unrealized losses that have not been recognized as other-than-temporary impairments. The guidance in this FSP 115-1 amends FASB Statement No. 115, “Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities” (“FASB No. 115”) and APB Opinion No. 18, “The Equity Method of Accounting for Investments in Common Stock” (“Opinion No. 18”). FSP 115-1 applies to investments in debt and equity securities and cost-method investments. The application guidance within FSP 115-1 includes items to consider in determining whether an investment is impaired, in evaluating if an impairment is other than temporary and recognizing impairment losses equal to the difference between the investment’s cost and its fair value when an impairment is determined. FSP 115-1 is required for all reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2005. Earlier application is permitted. The Company does not anticipate the amendment will have a material effect on its financial statements.

In May 2005, FASB issued Statement No. 154, “Accounting Changes and Error Corrections - A Replacement of APB Opinion No. 20 and FASB Statement No. 3” (“SFAS No. 154”). The new standard changes the requirements for the accounting for and reporting of a change in accounting principle. Among other changes, SFAS No. 154 requires that a voluntary change in accounting principle be applied retrospectively with all prior period financial statements presented on the new accounting principle, unless it is impracticable to do so. SFAS No. 154 also provides that (1) a change in method of depreciating or amortizing a long-lived nonfinancial asset be accounted for as a change in estimate (prospectively) that was effected by a change in accounting principle, and (2) correction of errors in previously issued financial statements should be termed a “restatement.” The new standard is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. The Company does not anticipate this revision will have a material effect on its financial statements.

In December 2004, FASB issued Statement No. 123 (Revised 2004) “Share-Based Payment” (“SFAS No. 123R”), which requires that the compensation cost relating to share-based payment transactions be recognized in financial statements. SFAS No. 123R replaces SFAS No. 123, “Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation,” and supersedes Opinion No. 25, “Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees.” Share-based compensation arrangements include share options, restricted share plans, performance-based awards, share appreciation rights and employee share purchase plans. SFAS No. 123R requires all share-based payments to employees to be valued using a fair value method on the date of grant and expensed based on that fair value over the applicable vesting period. SFAS No. 123R also amends Statement No. 95 “Statement of Cash Flows” (“SFAS No. 95”) requiring the benefits of tax deductions in excess of recognized compensation cost be reported as financing instead of operating cash flows. The SEC issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107 (“SAB 107”), which expresses the SEC’s views regarding the interaction between SFAS No. 123R and certain SEC rules and regulations. Additionally, SAB No. 107 provides guidance related to share-based payment transactions for public companies. The Company will be required to apply SFAS No. 123R for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 2006. The initial implementation had no effect on the Company’s financial statements as all outstanding options were fully vested at December 31, 2005.

In December 2003, the Accounting Standards Executive Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants issued Statement of Position 03-3, “Accounting for Certain Loans or Debt Securities Acquired in a Transfer” (“SOP 03-3”). SOP 03-3 addresses accounting for differences between contractual cash flows and cash flows expected to be collected from an investor’s initial investment in loans or debt securities (loans) acquired in a transfer if those differences are attributable, at least in part, to credit quality. It includes loans purchased by the Company or acquired in business combinations. SOP 03-3 does not apply to loans originated by the Company. The Company adopted the provisions of SOP 03-3 effective January 1, 2005. The initial implementation will have no effect on the Company’s financial statements.

NOTE 2, Restrictions on Cash and Amounts Due from Banks

The Company must maintain a reserve against its deposits in accordance with Regulation D of the Federal Reserve Act. For the final weekly reporting period in the years ended December 2005 and 2004, the aggregate amount of daily average required reserves, net of vault cash, was approximately $2.6 million and $4.5 million.

The Company has approximately $8.1 million in deposits in financial institutions in excess of amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) at December 31, 2005.

NOTE 3, Securities Portfolio

At December 31, 2005, the securities portfolio is composed of securities classified as held-to-maturity and available-for-sale, in conjunction with SFAS 115. Securities held-to-maturity are carried at cost, adjusted for amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts, and securities available-for-sale are carried at fair value.

The amortized cost and fair value of securities held-to-maturity at December 31, 2005 and 2004, were:

Table of Contents

Management evaluates securities for other-than-temporary impairment on at least a quarterly basis, and more frequently when economic or market concerns warrant such evaluation. Consideration is given to (i) the length of time and the extent to which the fair value has been less than cost, (ii) the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, and (iii) the intent and ability of the Company to retain its investment in the issuer for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in fair value.

At December 31, 2005, 97 debt securities had unrealized losses with aggregate depreciation of 2.3% from the Company's amortized cost basis. At December 31, 2004, 83 debt securities had unrealized losses with aggregate depreciation of 1% from the Company's amortized cost basis. These unrealized losses relate principally to U.S. Government Agency Securities. In analyzing an issuer's financial condition, management considers whether the securities are issued by the federal government or its agencies, whether downgrades by bond rating agencies have occurred, and industry analysts' reports. As management has the ability to hold debt securities until maturity, or for the foreseeable future if classified as available for sale, no declines are deemed to be other than temporary.

The Bank has had, and may be expected to have in the future, banking transactions in the ordinary course of business with directors, executive officers, their immediate families and companies in which they are principal owners (commonly referred to as related parties), on the same terms, including interest rates and collateral, as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with others. The aggregate direct and indirect loans of these persons totaled $3.8 million and $4.2 million at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively. These totals do not include loans made in the ordinary course of business to other companies where a director or executive officer of the Bank was also a director or officer of such company but not a principal owner. None of the directors or executive officers had direct or indirect loans exceeding 10% of stockholders' equity at December 31, 2005. Changes to the outstanding loan balances are as follows:

NOTE 8, Federal Home Loan Bank Advances and Other Borrowings

The Bank's short-term borrowings include federal funds purchased, securities sold under agreement to repurchase (including $2.3 million and $732 thousand to directors in 2005 and 2004, respectively) and United States Treasury Demand Notes. Securities sold under agreements to repurchase, which are classified as secured borrowings, generally mature within one to four days from the transaction date. Securities sold under agreement to repurchase are reflected at the amount of cash received in connection with the transaction. The Company may be required to provide additional collateral based on the fair value of the underlying securities. The United States Treasury Demand Notes are subject to call by the United States Treasury with interest paid monthly at the rate of 25 basis points (1/4%) below the federal funds rate.

The Bank's fixed-rate, long-term debt of $80 million at December 31, 2005 matures through 2013. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the interest rates ranged from 2.35% to 6.49% and from 2.06% to 6.60%, respectively. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the weighted average interest rate was 4.50% and 4.29%, respectively.

NOTE 13, Commitments and Contingencies

In the normal course of business, the Bank makes various commitments and incurs certain contingent liabilities. These commitments and contingencies represent off-balance sheet risk for the Bank. To meet the financing needs of its customers, the Bank makes lending commitments under commercial lines of credit, home equity lines and construction and development loans. The Bank also incurs contingent liabilities related to irrevocable letters of credit.

Off-balance sheet items at December 31 are as follows:

|   | 2005      | 2004     |

|   | (in thousands)   |                 |
| Commitments to extend credit:                               |                  |                 |
| Home equity lines of credit                                 | $ 22,214        | $17,669        |
| Construction and development loans committed but not funded | 61,536           | 46,154          |
| Other lines of credit (principally commercial)              | 40,684           | 30,198          |
| Total   | $124,434 | $94,021 |
| Irrevocable letters of credit                               | $ 6,053  | $ 5,240 |

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. Since many of the commitments are expected to expire without being drawn upon, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements. The Bank evaluates each customer's credit worthiness on a case-by-case basis. The amount of collateral obtained, if deemed necessary by the Bank, upon extensions of credit is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer. Collateral held varies but may include accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment and income-producing commercial properties.

Standby letters of credit and financial guarantees written are conditional commitments issued by the Bank to guarantee the performance of a customer to a third party. Those guarantees are primarily issued to support private borrowing agreements. The majority of guarantees extend for less than one year and expire in decreasing amounts through 2006, with the exception of one guarantee which extends for 10 years and expires in 2014. The credit risk involved in issuing letters of credit is essentially the same as that involved in extending loans to customers. The Bank holds various collateral supporting those commitments for which collateral is deemed necessary.

Various legal claims arise from time to time in the normal course of business, which management does not anticipate will have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 14, Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of a financial instrument is the current amount that would be exchanged between willing parties, other than in a forced liquidation. Fair value is best determined based upon quoted market prices. However, in many instances, there are no quoted market prices for the Company's various financial instruments. In cases where quoted market prices are not available, fair values are based on estimates using present value or other valuation techniques. Those techniques are significantly affected by the assumption used, including the discount rate and estimates of future cash flows. Accordingly, the fair value estimates may not be realized in an immediate settlement of the instrument. SFAS No. 107 "Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments" ("SFAS 107") excludes certain financial instruments and all non-financial instruments from its disclosure requirements. Accordingly, the aggregate fair value amounts presented may not necessarily represent the underlying fair value of the Company.

Table of Contents

The following methods and assumptions were used by the Company in estimating fair value disclosures for financial instruments:

Cash and cash equivalents

The carrying amounts of cash and short-term instruments approximate fair values.

Investment securities

Fair values for securities, excluding Federal Home Loan Bank stock, are based on quoted market prices. The carrying value of Federal Home Loan Bank stock approximates fair value based on the redemption provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank.

Loans receivable

For variable-rate loans that reprice frequently and with no significant change in credit risk, fair values are based on carrying values. Fair values for certain mortgage loans (e.g., one-to-four family residential), credit card loans, and other consumer loans are based on quoted market prices of similar loans sold in conjunction with securitization transactions, adjusted for differences in loan characteristics. Fair values for other loans (e.g., commercial real estate and investment property mortgage loans, commercial and industrial loans) are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality. Fair values for non-performing loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses or underlying collateral values, where applicable.

Deposit liabilities

The fair value of deposits is estimated by discounting the future cash flows using the rates currently offered for deposits of similar remaining maturities.

Short-term borrowings

The carrying amounts of federal funds purchased, securities sold under agreement to repurchase, and other short-term borrowings maturing within 90 days approximate their fair values. Fair values of other short-term borrowings are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses based on the Company's current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements.

Long-term borrowings

The fair values of the Company's long-term borrowings are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses based on the Company's current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements.

Accrued interest

The carrying amounts of accrued interest approximate fair value.

Commitments to extend credit and irrevocable letters of credit

The fair value of commitments is estimated using the fees currently charged to enter into similar agreements, taking into account the remaining terms of the agreements and the present creditworthiness of the counterparties. For fixed-rate loan commitments fair value also considers the difference between current levels of interest rates and the committed rates. The fair value of letters of credit is based on fees currently charged for similar agreements or on the estimated cost to terminate them or otherwise settle the obligations with the counterparties at the reporting date. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the fair value of loan commitments and irrevocable letters of credit was immaterial.

NOTE 15. Regulatory Matters

The Company (on a consolidated basis) and the Bank are subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can cause certain mandatory and possibly additional discretionary actions to be initiated by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Company's and the Bank's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Company and the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of their assets, liabilities and certain off-balance sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weightings and other factors. Prompt corrective action provisions are not applicable to bank holding companies.

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Company and the Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the following table) of total and Tier 1 capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk-weighted assets (as defined) and of Tier 1 capital (as defined) to average assets (as defined). Management believes, as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, that the Company and the Bank meets all capital adequacy requirements to which they are subject.

As of December 31, 2005, the most recent notification from the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency categorized the Bank as well-capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be categorized as well-capitalized, an institution must maintain minimum total risk-based, Tier 1 risk-based and Tier 1 leverage ratios as set forth in the following tables. There are no conditions or events since the notification that management believes have changed the Bank's category. The Company's and the Bank's actual capital amounts and ratios as of December 31, 2005 and 2004 are also presented in the table.

The approval of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency is required if the total of all dividends declared by a national bank in any calendar year exceeds the Bank's net profits for that year combined with its retained net profits for the preceding two calendar years. Under this formula, the Bank can distribute as dividends to the Company in 2006, without approval of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, $16.6 million plus an additional amount equal to the Bank's retained net profits for 2006 up to the date of any dividend declaration.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements With Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

Change in Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

As discussed in the Company's current reports on Form 8-K and 8-K/A filed with the SEC on June 29, 2003, and October 29, 2004, the Company engaged Yount, Hyde & Barbour, PC as its independent auditors for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2004, and chose not to renew the engagement of Witt Mares Eggleston Smith, PLC, which served as the Company's independent auditors for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures. The Company maintains "disclosure controls and procedures," as such term is defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act"), that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. In designing and evaluating its disclosure controls and procedures, management recognized that disclosure controls and procedures, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the disclosure controls and procedures are met. Additionally, in designing disclosure controls and procedures, management necessarily was required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible disclosure controls and procedures. The design of any disclosure controls and procedures also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions.

As required, management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on this evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were operating effectively to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the SEC.

Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Management assessed the effectiveness of the company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005. In making this assessment, management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO") in Internal Control-Integrated Framework. Based on the assessment using those criteria, management concluded that the internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2005.

Management's assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2005 has been audited by Yount, Hyde & Barbour P. C., an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report which appears on page 32 of this report on Form 10-K.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting. There was no change in the internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended December 31, 2005 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the internal control over financial reporting.

Item 9B. Other Information

The following information is provided pursuant to Item 1.01 of Form 8-K:

On January 30, 2006, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors approved the 2006 target bonuses and performance goals for the Company's named executive officers under the Company's Executive Incentive Plan.

Short-Term Cash Incentive Awards. The 2006 performance targets are based on the Bank's average asset growth (weighting: 10%), the Bank's average loan growth (weighting: 10%), the Bank's average deposit growth (weighting: 10%), the Trust Company's revenue growth (weighting: 10%), the Company's earnings growth (weighting: 40%), and a subjective component related to nonfinancial goals as determined by the board (weighting: 20%). Depending on the Company's 2006 performance with respect to these measures, the Company's named executive officers, among others, may earn short-term cash incentive award for 2006 in a range from 3% to 18% of their 2006 annualized base salaries, subject to adjustment in the discretion of certain officers of the Company.

A description of the Executive Incentive Plan is filed as Exhibit 10.5 to this report, and is incorporated herein by reference.

Description of Executive Incentive Plan, as amended for 2006Purpose

The Incentive Plan is designed to motivate and reward participants for the achievement of fiscal year financial and non-financial objectives that directly contribute to the success of the Company overall.

Eligibility

Non-commission exempt employees hired no later than 12/31/05 for the upcoming year payout and employed on 12/31/06 (or through year-end).

Target Incentive Award

The Target Incentive Award is the amount that the participant is eligible to receive if the combined, weighted performance against the Plan objectives equals an overall achievement level based on the operating budget. Depending upon the participant's officer level in the Company, Target Incentive Awards range from 3% to 18% of annualized base salary.

In addition, participants are evaluated based on personal performance and objectives. The actual award received by the participant could be higher or lower than the target amount as a result of their individual performance.

General Plan Provisions

Incentive award recommendations for all Plan participants are to be submitted to the Senior Vice President, Finance by December 1, 2006. Award payments require approval by the CEO, Executive Vice Presidents and Human Resource Director. Documentation of individual objectives and accomplishments may be required to be submitted along with the award recommendations.

The Board of Directors reserve the right to adjust the overall incentive pool and/or individual incentive awards at their discretion for such matters and amounts as deemed necessary to meet minimally acceptable EPS requirements; to adjust for individual performance that falls below the Plan threshold or above the Plan maximum; and/or to adjust for individual performance determined by the CEO or Executive Vice Presidents to require either positive or negative adjustments.

Payments to participants are scheduled for the first payday in December 2006 and are subject to all applicable payroll taxes.

Nothing in this FY 2006 Incentive Plan Description or in any action taken thereunder shall affect the Company's right to terminate at any time and for any reason the employment of any associate who is a participant in the Plan.

Definitions

|                          |   |
|--------------------------|---|
| Base Salary              | The annualized base salary of a participant for the Plan Year exclusive of bonuses or any special payments.                       |
| Earnings per Share (EPS) | Net earnings, post incentive, but before unusual, one-time charges, gains or losses divided by average common shares outstanding. |
| Plan Year                | The period commencing January 1, 2006 and ending December 31, 2006.   |

Directors' Compensation

Beginning May 11, 2004, all directors of the Bank and Trust Company received $400 and $250, respectively, for each board meeting they attended. The non-employee directors of the Bank and Trust Company received $150 for each committee meeting they attended. In addition, non-employee directors of the Bank and Trust Company are paid an annual retainer fee of $7,000 and $2,500, respectively, except that directors serving on the Bank board who also served on the Trust Company board received an additional $1,000 instead of $2,500 annual retainer for serving on the Trust Company board. No additional fees were paid for being a Company director. All Company directors have been elected as directors of the Bank, but there is no assurance that this practice will continue. However, not all Company directors serve as directors of the Trust Company. There are no additional fees paid for being a Company director.

On May 11, 2005, the annual retainer fee for all non-employee directors of the Bank and Trust Company was changed to $8,000 and $3,000, respectively, except that directors serving on the Bank board who also served on the Trust Company board receive an additional $1,000 instead of $3,000 annual retainer for serving on the Trust Company board, except that the Chairman of the Audit Committee of the Company Board is paid an additional $2,000 retainer fee.

Effective March 1, 2006, employee directors no longer receive payment for each board meeting they attend. Base compensation has been adjusted to reflect this change.

Directors who are employees of the Company and its subsidiaries do not receive any fees for committee meetings and are not paid annual retainer fees.

The Company also pays for all directors and their spouses to attend regular director seminars.

Non-employee directors are eligible for non-qualified stock options, under the Company's 1998 Stock Option Plan. See Exhibit 10.3 for details of agreement. There were no non-qualified stock options issued in 2005.

Base Salaries of Named Executive Officers of the Registrant

As of March 1, 2006, the following are the base salaries (on an annual basis) of the named executive officers (as defined in Item 402 (a) (3) of Regulation S-K) of Old Point Financial Corporation:

Code of Ethics

Corporate Statement:

A financial institution's activities are affected by laws and regulations, as well as its responsibilities to its shareholders, customers, employees and the community in which it serves. The Code of Ethics provides the avenue for ensuring that the conduct of its employees is consistent with the institution's corporate responsibilities.

This Code of Ethics embodies not only legal and regulatory requirements, but also the standards by which our employees must conduct themselves.

Conflict of Interest:

A financial institution's reputation for integrity is its most valuable asset and is directly affected by the conduct of its employees. For this reason, employees must not use their position for private gain, to advance personal interests, or to obtain favors or benefits for themselves, members of their families, or any other individuals, corporations or business entities.

A basic premise of the Code of Ethics is that each employee represents Old Point Financial Corporation and its subsidiaries, Old Point National Bank and Old Point Trust and Financial Services (hereinafter "Company") and is obligated to act in the Company's best interest, and in the best interests of its customers and stockholders, without regard to the employee's personal or financial interest of activities. Employees are expected to recognize and avoid those situations where personal or financial interest or relationships might influence or appear to influence the employee's judgment on matters affecting our Company.

Employees should understand that a conflict of interest may arise when there is a mere opportunity for conflict to occur. Although employees may not intend to create a conflict of interest, they should manage their affairs to avoid even the appearance of such a conflict. If an employee has any doubt about a certain situation, the employee should contact his/her supervisor or the Human Resources Director to discuss it immediately.

Confidential Information:

The unauthorized use or release of confidential information during or after employment with the company is a breach of this Code of Ethics. Confidential information with respect to the Company, its customers, prospective customers, suppliers, shareholders, and employees acquired in the course of business is to be used solely for corporate purposes and never to be discussed or divulged to unauthorized people. The need for confidentiality extends to everyone, including family, friends and acquaintances.

Customers, suppliers, shareholders and employees expect the Company and its employees to keep information regarding their personal and business affairs in strict confidence at all time. Examples of confidential information include the following: customers', suppliers', shareholders' or employees' business relationships, loans, accounts, balances, credit ratings, experiences, or any other transaction with the Company. Other examples of confidential information include, but are not limited to corporate policies, objectives, goals and strategies; lists of clients, customers or vendors; employee records; and other materials such as graphs, memoranda, documents, manuals, training materials, bulletins, intellectual property, and similar originals or copies of records whether or not you have contributed to their creation. When an employee leaves the Company, the employee may not retain any confidential information as it is considered Company property.

Confidential information available to one affiliate or department of the Company should only be communicated to other affiliates or departments when there is a legitimate business need to know.

Employees should take positive steps to safeguard confidential information and to be sure that the actual documents comprising the information are properly and securely stored.

Insider Trading:

An employee's position with the Company may provide that employee with access to "material non-public (or inside) information". "Material non-public information" includes information that is not available to the public at large, which would be important to an investor in making a decision to buy, sell or retain a security. Common examples of information that will frequently be considered material are as follows: projections of future earnings or losses; news of a pending or proposed merger or acquisition, tender offer or exchange offer; news of a significant sale of assets or the disposition of a subsidiary; changes in dividend policies or the declaration of a stock split or the offering of additional shares; significant changes in management; significant new products or discoveries; or impending financial liquidity problems. It should be noted that either positive or negative information may be material.

An employee in possession of "material non-public information" shall not pass that information on to others, and shall not purchase or sell a security or recommend a security transaction of the employee's own account, the account of a family member or any other person. After the information has been publicly disclosed through appropriate channels, an employee is then allowed to trade in the security. The use or disclosure of such information can result in civil or criminal penalties under federal securities laws, both for the individual concerned and for the Company.

Relationship with the Investment Community:

Institutional investors and securities analysts play a critical role in establishing the pricing and liquidity of the Company's stock and other publicly held securities. To ensure proper disclosure and consistency of information, all communications with members of the investment community should be coordinated with the proper Investor Relations Officer.

Financial Accountability and Internal Controls:

The Company has numerous internal control policies and procedures. The Company expects all employees to be familiar with and operate within established internal controls. The Company's internal and external auditors periodically audit internal control policies, procedures and compliance in order to assess the sufficiency of these controls. All employees involved in these periodic assessments shall provide accurate information and shall complete the internal control certifications in a timely manner.

Integrity of Accounting and Financial Information:

The Company maintains the highest standards in preparing the accounting and financial information disclosed to the public. There should never be issued any information that is false, misleading, incomplete or would lead to mistrust by the public, our customers, or our stockholders. All accounting records shall be compiled accurately, with the appropriate accounting entries properly classified when entered on the books.

No payments on behalf of the Company shall be approved or any transaction made with the intention or understanding that part or all of such payment will be used for any purpose other than that described by the documents supporting it. No fund, asset, or liability of the Company shall, under any circumstances or for any purpose, be concealed or used for an unlawful or improper purpose.

Money Laundering and Transaction Structuring:

The Company may unknowingly be used to launder money derived from criminal activity. The intention behind these types of transactions is to hide ownership of the funds from the government. The Company makes every effort to resist being associated with money laundering or any other type of criminal activity.

Any employee who knowingly and willfully launders money, or attempts or assists someone in laundering money is subject to termination. Also, in accordance with the Bank Secrecy Act (BSA), any employee who willfully structures a transaction, or attempts or assists someone in structuring a transaction to avoid the currency reporting requirements of BSA is subject to substantial fines and/or imprisonment.

The Company's employees are prohibited from engaging in money laundering and/or transaction structuring. All employees are required to immediately report all attempts to launder money, structure a transaction and/or all suspicious activities to the BSA officer.

Embezzlement, Theft, and Misapplication of Funds:

The Company holds each employee responsible for maintaining accurate and complete records. Anyone who embezzles, steals, or willfully misappropriates any monies, funds, property, payments or credits of the Company is subject to termination.

Use of Corporate Name and Letterhead:

The Company's name, logo or corporate letterhead may not be used for any purpose other than in the normal course of official company business, unless expressly approved by executive management (Chairman of the Board, President, Executive Vice President).

Relationships with the Media:

The Company's relationship with the media is an important one that affects our image in the community. Employees should refer all questions or requests for information from reporters or other media representatives to the Marketing Director to ensure consistency and accuracy of information.

Relationships with Competitors/Trade Associations:

The company will act with competitors and trade associations only on behalf of ethical and beneficial social objectives and will not participate in business activities that are or could be construed to be in violation of anti-trust laws.

Things of Value Offered to Employees:

It is a federal crime for any officer, director, employee, agent or attorney of the Company to corruptly solicit, demand or accept for the benefit of any person anything of value from anyone in return for any business, service or confidential information of the Company, intending to be influenced or rewarded, either before or after a transaction is discussed or consummated. Although all transactions and businesses are covered, some examples include extensions of credit, underwriting transactions, investment advice, trust matters, checking accounts and purchases from suppliers. The person who improperly offers or promises something of value under these circumstances is guilty of the same offense. Termination of employment can result from non-compliance as well as substantial criminal penalties.

It is not uncommon for bankers to have close social or family ties with some of those with whom they do business. Things of value exchanged between a Company employee and family members or social friends are not covered by this Code of Ethics if they are exchanged solely because of the family or social relationship and not in connection with a bank transaction or bank business. However, the exchange of things of value that may create the appearance of a conflict of interest should be avoided.

Acceptance of things of value in connection with bank business is generally prohibited. However, in the course of a meeting or other occasion for which the purpose is to hold bona fide business discussions and/or to foster better business relations, an employee may accept meals, refreshment, travel arrangements or accommodations, or entertainment of a reasonable value, provided the benefit would be paid for by the Company as a reasonable expense. In most cases "reasonable value is considered to be $50.00 or less.

Other items that are acceptable include advertising or promotional material of nominal value such as pens, pencils, note pads, key chains, calendars and similar items; discounts or rebates on merchandise or services that do not exceed those available to other customers; gifts of modest value that are related to commonly recognized events or occasions such as promotion, new job, wedding, retirement, Christmas, Hanukkah, bar mitzvah, civic, charitable, educational or religious organizational awards for recognition of service and accomplishments.

However, an employee may not receive things of value for purely personal benefit which serve no demonstrable business purpose. Gifts of cash in any amount are expressly prohibited.

On a case-by-case basis, the Company may approve other circumstances, not described herein, in which employees may accept something of value in connection with Company business. Approval may be given by the Human Resources Director in writing on the basis of a full written disclosure of all relevant facts submitted by the employee, providing compliance with federal law.

Whenever any situation arises with regard to matters concerning things of value, you must make full disclosure to the Human Resources Director and receive a written response. Permanent files must be maintained of all disclosures and responses.

Things of Value Offered by Employees:

Employees may not, on behalf of the Company in connection with any transaction or business of the Company, directly or indirectly give, offer, or promise anything of value to any individual, business entity, organization, governmental unit, public official, political party or any other person for the purpose of influencing the actions of the recipient. This standard of conduct is not intended to prohibit normal business practices such as providing meals, entertainment, tickets to cultural and sporting events, promotional gifts, favors, discounts, price concessions, gifts given as token of friendship or special occasions (such as Christmas), so long as they are of nominal and reasonable value under the circumstances and promote the Company's legitimate business interests.

Estate Matters:

No employee or member of an employee's family (with certain limited exceptions) may accept any benefit under a will or trust instrument of a customer of the Company unless the customer is a member of the employee's family or the Human Resources Director has approved in writing. An employee may never demand, request or solicit any benefit under a will or trust instrument of a customer of the Company.

No employee or member of an employee's family may act in any fiduciary capacity under a will, trust, or other instrument or statutory account of a customer of the Company, unless prior approval from the Human Resources Director has been obtained and the employee turns over to Finance any commission or fees received. This does not apply to a will, trust or other instrument established by a member of the employee's family.

Outside Activities:

Employees' activities must not interfere or conflict with the interest of the Company. Acceptance of outside employment, outside speaking engagements, election to the board of directors of other organizations, and participation in activities on behalf of outside organizations or in political activities represent potential conflicts of interest.

Appropriate gainful employment outside the Company system is permissible, but discouraged. Employees should not engage in outside employment that interferes with the time and attention that must be devoted to their duties at the Company or adversely affects the quality of the work they perform.

Outside employment should not compete or conflict with the activities of the Company; involve any use of Company equipment, supplies, or facilities; imply the Company's sponsorship or support; or adversely affect the Company's reputation. Employees must disclose all outside employment to the Human Resources Director. Approval must be obtained prior to engaging in any outside employment.

The Company encourages employees to participate in worthwhile civic, social, educational and charitable organizations and activities. However, employees must not act without executive management approval in the following capacities: any signing capacity on any account of another, except a family member; an official of any organization, except for social, religious, philanthropic or civic organization, colleges or schools, neighborhood associations, clubs or trade or professional organizations associated with banking or business.

Political Contributions and Activities:

Employee contributions to political organizations may not be solicited on Company premises or off premises during business hours of operations with the exception of Bank Pac through VBA.

The Company encourages all employees to be informed about political events and issues and to take an active interest in the electoral process. However, an employee must not allow his/her personal political activity to interfere with employment.

The seeking of election or appointment to a public office is discouraged. Advance disclosure of such intentions should be made to the Human Resources Director.

Sound Personal Finances:

The manner in which employees manage their personal finances can affect on-the-job performance and the Company's image in the community. Therefore employees must avoid any circumstances that may lead to over extension of credit or salary garnishments or drawing checks against insufficient funds or other financially embarrassing situations.

Employees should borrow only from financial institutions that regularly lend money. Borrowing may be done only on a normal basis with no favored treatment. Employees may not borrow from customers and suppliers except those who engage in lending in the usual course of their business and then only on terms customarily offered to others under similar circumstances without special concessions as to interest rate, terms, security, repayment terms and penalties.

Employment of Relatives or Persons Having Close Personal Relationships:

To minimize security risks and avoid conflicts of interest, immediate family members or other persons with whom an employee has close personal relationships should not work in the same department, be placed in positions where one may supervise another or be placed where one may be in a position of processing, tracking, monitoring or recording of transactions initiated by the family member. Exceptions to the policy must be approved by executive management.

Disclosure and Recordkeeping:

If an employee believes he/she will be in violation of this Code of Ethics, the employee must disclose the facts of the situation to the Human Resources Director. Failure to do so is a separate breach of this Code.

Disclosure should always be in writing, and a written response to the employee should be given by Human Resources. A file of disclosures and responses should be maintained by Human Resources.

Acknowledgment:

Every employee will be required to sign a statement that he or she has read this Code of Ethics and understands its provisions and agrees to abide by them. Employees may also be required to provide a periodic acknowledgment.

Code of Ethics Violations:

Any employee who violates any section of this Code of Ethics is subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Suspicious of Code of Ethics violations and/or criminal activity or business abuses should be reported immediately to the Human Resources Director and/or the employee's Supervisor/Manager. The Whistleblower Policy should be referenced in situations where an activity may be deemed fraudulent in nature.

  - (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
  - (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and
  - (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and
5. The registrant's other certifying officer and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):
  - (a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and
  - (b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
